The Marquis of Leganez, Captain-General of the Coaſts of Andaluſia, arrived here this day from Madrid; He is to obey the Orders of the Count d'Eſtrees, which he is diſſatisfied at, and may occaſion his making a ſhort ſtay here. Two Spaniſh Galleys are ordered to ſail from hence with Supplies of Men and Proviſions for the Garriſon of Ceuta. Directions are given to fit out the Galeons, and 'tis ſaid, they are to ſail for the Weſt-Indies in the beginning of Auguſt.

Rome, June 4. The Ambaſſador of Venice had this week a long Audience of the Pope, concerning the Affairs of Italy. The Spaniſh Ambaſſador has deſired of the Pope, that Father Diaz, who was Confeſſor to the late King of Spain, and after his Death retired hither, might be delivered to him in order to be ſent to Spain, being charged with having uſed Expreſſions reflecting upon that King's Will; but the Pope has choſen rather to confine him in the Caſtle of St. Angelo, to prevent his being privately carried away. The Duke of Parma offers the Pope 2000 Men to garriſon Ferrara.

Genoua, June 4. The two Squadrons of Spaniſh Galleys, which lately arrived on this Coaſt from Naples under the command of Count Lemos and the Duke of Turſis, have received Orders to return thither, and to carry back the Soldiers they had brought with them, the People in that Kingdom being generally diſſatisfied, and ſome Diſturbances having already happened in the Country of Abruzzo. The Galley-Slaves of Count Lemos's Squadron had agreed together (upon a certain Signal) to throw their Officers and the Soldiers over board, and to go away with the Galleys; but this Plot was timely diſcovered, and the chief Conſpirators are ſecured.

Verona, June 8. The French Troops are very much weakened by Deſertion.

Florence, June 10.
